Turabian style is a common citation style used to do this. It is composed of two different styles: the notes-bibliography style and the author-date style. Students of history, literature and the arts typically use the notes-bibliography style to cite their material. On the other hand, students of the physical, natural and social sciences typically use the author-date style to cite their material.

Source citations in the Turabian manual come in two varieties: (1) notes and bibliography (or simply notes) and (2) author-date. These two systems are also sometimes referred to as Chicago-style citations, because they are the same as the ones presented in The Chicago Manual of Style.
