

What Is Simultaneous Engineering

Concurrent engineering (CE) is a work methodology emphasizing the parallelisation of tasks (i.e. performing tasks concurrently), which is sometimes called simultaneous engineering or integrated product development (IPD) using an integrated product team approach.

Swift Manufacturing & Engineering can take your concepts and make them into fully functional, and/or cosmetic prototypes. We can use SLA technology to rapid prototype, then paint, and detail your prototype in the proper color schemes, and many times correct texturing, to provide an accurate representation of the final product.
